Density, Environmental Concerns Principal Threat To Project

By Frank Messina

The 10 variances and two special permit requests for a 33 unit development next to the Andover Public Golf Course are unusual by their sheer quantity. But, those aren't the numbers that stand firmly in the way of landowner Harry Axelrod's housing project.

Representatives of the owner of Andover's only public golf course will try to convince the Zoning Board of Appeals tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in the school committee room that 33 units doesn't overtax 11 acres of land and 50 yards is far enough from environmentally sensitive wetlands.

"These are the two major stumbling blocks," said Steve Colyer, Andover town planner. "He (Axelrod) must get past these before he can think about the other variances." If the two major variances are granted, "the rest would be moot," he said.

For at least three years, Axelrod has been proposing several plans for luxury townhouses that would rival the quality of the plush Hunter Ridge complex in Andover. From 44 units, the project has been scaled down to the current level, but Colyer pointed out that unless the wetlands encroachment issue is settled, the number of units planned is irrelevant.

Axelrod, who formerly owned the Sheraton Rolling Green hotel located next to the golf course, could be granted a variance from state wetlands protections if he proves the laws place undue hardships on the project.

But, Colyer feels that no hardship shown by Axelrod and his consultant firm, John Crowe Associates, so far, would be enough grant a variance.

Last year, the town granted a hardship variance to John Garabedian, who developed the Cloverfield Estates near Route 93 and Chandler Road.

The Garabedian request, said Colyer, was simply for a small roadway to be built over a water headway to allow access to the subdivision.

Crowe officials have pointed to that variance as a precedent, but Colyer said likening the two situations is similar to "comparing a grain of sand with a beach."

John Crowe, head of Crowe Associates, said the main hardship is also a problem of access. Entry to the proposed development would have to cross wetlands area, he said.

There is more flexibility with density, however, Crowe, at the first public presentation of the project at last week's planning board meeting, expressed reluctance to shave the project's profit margin further by cutting the number, or size of the condominiums.

In return for approving the variances, Axelrod has offered the town 25 acres of wetlands and unveiled plans to construct a drainage runoff in the area to alleviate flooding problems.

Axelrod hopes the ZBA agrees that public benefit over the land gift and drainage system will balance the variance requests.

However, Colyer questioned what townspeople would get out of water-

Town Fall

Tarp and scaffolding from renovation work on Old Town Hall fell to the ground in last Friday night's heavy winds. Andover Sgt. Steve Avery said the wind caught the tarp like a parachute and brought part of the scaffolding on the Main Street side down at about 9:15 p.m. There were no injuries.

O'Leary Honored By Lodge

Sheldon A. Fine, left, president of the Joseph G. Koffman Lodge No. 1522 of B'Nai B'Rith, presents a community service award to Thomas F. O'Leary, president and chief professional officer of the Merrimack Valley United Fund, at Temple Emanuel.

Thomas F. O'Leary, president and chief professional officer of the Merrimack Valley United Fund, was honored by the Joseph G. Koffman Lodge No. 1522 of B'Nai B'Rith at a breakfast held at Temple Emanuel in Andover Sunday, April 24.

Sheldon A. Fine, lodge president, presented O'Leary with an annual community service award in recognition of his dedication in helping fill the human service needs of people in the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire. O'Leary is the first non-Jewish recipient of the award.

"The Joseph Koffman Lodge of B'Nai B'Rith make s a presentation of a community service award to a person (who), in the minds of the members of the lodge, best exemplifies the principles of community service," said Fine, adding that O'Leary has "dedicated his life to human service."

O'Leary came to the Merrimack Valley in 1954 and was appointed executive director of the Greater Lawrence Community Chest. Later that year, O'Leary was named executive director of the Greater Lawrence United Fund.

In October of 1971, O'Leary was appointed to his present position. Since that time, he has raised $62.7 million for counseling, character building and health agencies serviced by the Fund.

O'Leary is a graduate of Holy Cross and holds a master's of science degree in social work from Boston College. While serving in World War II he was bestowed a silver star for gallantry in action and a bronze star for heroic action.

Honored For Academic Excellence

Brown University senior Wendy Bewig of Andover has been awarded the Class of 1906 Prize for academic excellence in Slavic languages, according to Perry Ashley, associate dean of the college and chair of the committee on prizes and premiums.

Bewig will receive $100. The Class of 1906 Memorial Premium was established in 1956 by the will of Harry Knowles, Class of 1906. The premium is awarded to a student who has completed with highest distinction the honors program in Russian studies.

In Honor Society

Suzanne Young, a student at Regis College, was inducted into the Iota Chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the National Scholastic Honor Society for Catholic Colleges and Universities, at the college's honors induction ceremony on April 24. Young, a resident of Andover, is the daughter of Mrs. Marcia Young.

Regis College, founded in 1927 by the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Boston, is a women's Catholic, liberal arts college in Weston.

DCS Looking For Teens

The Department of Community Services is offering job opportunities to junior high and high school students interested in earning extra money without the commitment of a permanent job. The objective of the "Rent-a-Teen" program is to give the teens of Andover an opportunity to become involved with the community and give them work experience.

Andover hires students to do a wide variety of jobs, ranging from mowing lawns, raking and weeding to babysitting and house cleaning. With spring cleanup time, the demand for workers is beginning to exceed the supply of the program's teens.

Applications are available in the DCS office for energetic, reliable young people who want to earn between $4 and $6 an hour while performing a service to Andover residents. For further information, contact Selma Flieder, coordinator of the Rent-a-Teen program at DCS.

Burning Season Extended

Open air burning permits have been extended in Andover until May 15 by Fire Chief Harold F. Hayes, due to the poor weather conditions encountered this spring.

Owners of properties may telephone the fire department between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. for permission to burn brush or diseased vegetation. All such fires must be extinguished by 4 p.m. daily.

Policemen To Hold Annual Ball

The annual Andover Policemen's Ball will be held Friday, May 15, at the Andover Country Club.

There will be a cocktail hour from 6:30-7:30 p.m., followed by dinner and dancing from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. The band, "Back to Back," will provide the musical entertainment.

Tickets are available at the police station.

Canoe Races Saturday

The AVIS 18th annual canoe and kayak race will be held Saturday, May 6. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. at the Horn Bridge (bottom of Central Street). Races begin at 10 a.m.

for beginners, 11 a.m. for intermediates. Registration is free. There will be prizes. Further information is available from John Zeilan or Bob James.

Police To Run In Benefit Road Race

For the second year, the Andover Police Department will participate in the state law enforcement torch run on June 11 for the benefit of the Massachusetts Special Olympics.

Policemen from all over the state will run along Route 28 from Methuen on the Salem, N.H., line while fellow officers run from Bourne at the Cape Cod Canal to meet at Boston University for the Olympics opening ceremonies.

Organizers hope to raise money to help send the medalists to the National Special Olympics for mentally disabled people.

Those wishing to make a tax deductible donation can send a check, payable to the Massachusetts Special Olympics, to the Andover Police Department, 32 North Main St., c/o Sgt. Ricci.

Honors

Kevin A. Newman of Andover, a senior, attained first honors for the third marking term at St. John's Preparatory School, Danvers.

Gaining second honors were John Giomartin and Stephen M. Spinelli, both sophomores.

Volunteers Recognized

More than 350 volunteers were honored at the Department of Social Services second annual volunteer recognition event April 23 at the Sheraton Tara Hotel in Framingham.

The volunteers have been participating in case reviews in each of the 40 DSS area offices throughout Massachusetts since March 1986. Along with DSS professionals from the foster care review unit and the local area office, volunteers meet with family members and service providers every six months to insure that children placed in foster care receive the necessary services to achieve a timely and safe return to their homes. When that is not possible, the review panels insure that an alternative permanent placement is achieved.

Bank Assists ABC Drive

Miles Borland, president of Bank of Boston, North, hands Michael Arthur, president of Andover ABC, the Bank of Boston's $25,000 commitment to ABC's Capital Campaign Fund. Phil Allen, co-chairman of the drive along with Arthur, and Cindy Stableford of the Bank of Boston and an ABC board member look on. Arthur added the contribution to the total, now $190,000, shown on the campaign thermometer in front of the ABC House at 134 Main St.

The Andover Committee for a Better Chance received another major contribution to its Capital Campaign Fund Drive last week when the Bank of Boston pledged $25,000 over three years. The bank's pledge brings the total pledged or received to just over $190,000. The program is raising money to pay for the recent renovation of the ABC House at 134 Main St.

Bank of Boston Northern Region President Miles Borland joined Cindy Stableford, a commercial loan officer at Bank of Boston North and ABC board member, in announcing the award. The bank's recently opened Andover branch at 20 Central St. is managed by area resident Joyce Michaels. Other local personnel include Private Banking Group Vice President Neal McGovern and Assistant Vice President Dennis Hamboyan. The bank has 15 branches in Middlesex and Essex counties.

Other area programs supported by Bank of Boston North include Bread and Roses, Class Inc., Lawrence Boys Club, Lawrence Neighborhood Housing Services and Lazarus House.

Andover ABC, supporting 10 students this year at Andover High School, is in its 21st year. The program provides an academic alternative at public and private secondary schools for qualified minority students from impacted areas.

ABC hopes to exceed the original goal of $215,000 to cover additional work that has been done and to begin a capital fund to meet future needs. Challenge matching grants have been made by Raytheon, the Wood Foundation and David Corbett. The Stevens Foundation pledged $30,000 when the $185,000 level was reached.

ABC will host a roast of School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert Wednesday, May 11, at the Andover Marriott. Tickets are available from Dog Mitchell, High Plain Road, or Bill Washburn, Temple Place.

One of the final efforts in the fund drive will be a townwide mailing which should reach all residents of Andover this week.

The mailing will include a brochure that describes the program and outlines its history in Andover.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Using the bathtub for your newborn infant is seldom convenient, because it requires more water than necessary and you must kneel to use it. Instead, but an oval-shaped, plastic baby tub, big enough for the baby to kick and splash in. If you do use a plastic tub, make sure the counter will accommodate it. In the kitchen, you can set the tub on a drain board or use the sink itself. A bathinette can be used and is a tub the height of a table, with a fold-down lid for drying and dressing. It usually is equipped with towel racks, compartments for diapers and space for soap and lotion.

See the largest in depth selection of baby furniture in N. E., when you come to TINY TOTLAND. Open 9-5:30 M. & Th. 9-9. Famous makers including Simmons, Childcraft and Bassett. Delivery Anywhere. Volunteer Honored By Agency

The Experiment in International Living, an international nonprofit organization that promotes international understanding through citizen exchange, recognized Anne Baldwin for outstanding voluntary service during National Volunteer Week, April 17-23. As a volunteer for the Homestay USA program, Baldwin has represented the Experiment in the Andover region by locating interested host families for international visitors of all ages and providing on-going support for the duration of the visits.

The Experiment places about 2,000 visitors from more than 30 countries each year in homes across the United States for periods of a week, three weeks, five months or ten months with the assistance of project coordinators. Some are adults and many are high school age students. They are selected by the Experiment offices in their countries for their motivation, flexibility and interest in living with and learning from an American family.

"The Experiment in America could not exist without volunteers like Anne Baldwin," says Howard Gutow, director of The Experiment's Homestay USA program. "It's with the greatest appreciation that we honor our volunteers during National Volunteer Week. Project coordinators and host families enrich their communities by offering visitors the chance to learn about the United States and to look at life from an international perspective."

According to Baldwin, hosting does not mean providing a vacation for the visitors, but allowing them to share in the usual family routines, thus enabling them to learn how Americans live and think. "Hosts should be open and curious about their international visitors," she says. "Often the hosts find they learn as much as they teach. Typical activities might include shopping, visiting a local school, going to church, seeing a local farm or factory, hearing a concert. Our 'experimenters' appreciate the chance to practice their English and to ask questions about the United States."

To find out how to become involved in The Experiment's Homestay USA program, call Anne Baldwin.

AT OUR SCHOOLS

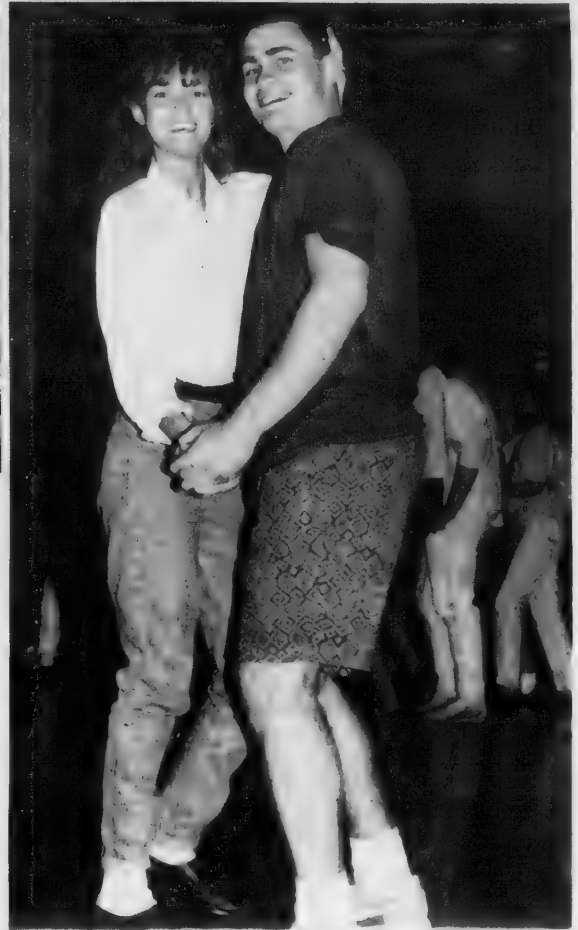

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 5, 1988

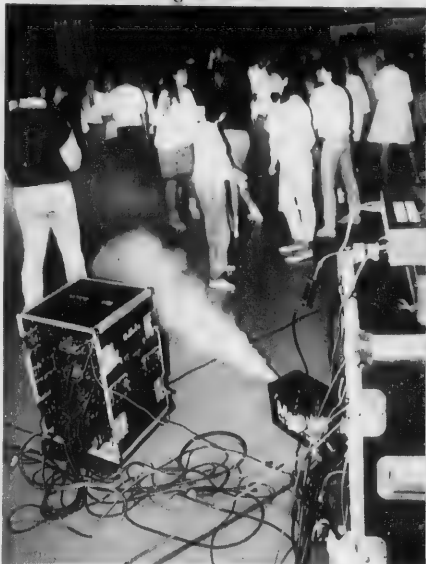

Non-alcoholic fun was the theme of the Club Coca Cola dance held last Friday night at Andover High School—for a good cause. Ticket sales from the 300-plus students went to Special Olympics. More than $1,400 was raised.

Josh Yezerski, Jeremy Maraner, Scott Friese and Kelly MacLean were serving up cold Coca Cola during the dance.

These two Andover High students were among the more than 300 who attended the dance in the school's cafeteria.

Students were treated to a variety of new and not-so-new music, while they were flooded with dry ice and colored lights.

A 150-square foot video screen was the highlight of the evening.

Western Roundup

By Ellen Cohen

West students participated in the leadership workshop Wednesday, April 27, at the Arlington School in Lawrence. Students were served donuts and juice and then heard the good news and bad news of each school's project. Upon their presentation, students were congratulated on their efforts to help the elderly in Andover and were asked to evaluate the program. All responses were positive. After lunch and a tour of the new school certificates of participation were presented. At the conclusion of the awards assembly the group was informed the last meeting will be held at Old Sturbridge this year.

Then everyone could sit back and relax and watch some tough competition in the All-Star Knowledge Bowl. After concluding remarks were given, the 1987-88 leadership workshop came to an end. The program has been enjoyed by all and is expected to be continued in the future.

The spring sports teams are going full speed ahead. The baseball team is off to a good start with a record of 3-1-0. They had great games against North Andover, Lawrence, Central Catholic and Tewksbury. The softball team's record is 2-2-0. They have played against North Andover (twice), Lawrence and Tewksbury. The track team won their first meet against North Andover 72-30.

In the studio students have a chance to learn all aspects of video production—how to operate equipment, write scripts and direct technicians and actors. The television center currently features eight regular shows, which are aired Wednesday and Thursday nights on cable Channel 12. There are sports, news, comedy, public affairs and cultural shows, along with an academic games show and an entertainment show.

Caring And Coping With Alzheimer's Program Topic

The Andover Council on Aging will present a series entitled Alzheimer's Disease: Caring and Coping on Thursdays at 7 p.m. in the Andover Senior Center beginning May 12. Family and friends of Alzheimer's victims will learn about the physical, psychological, financial and legal implications of this devastating illness.

Elder Affairs Coordinator Dorothy Winn stated, "You don't have to have Alzheimer's disease to suffer from it." Alzheimer's disease places a constant burden on family, friends and caregivers of its victims.

The schedule of speakers and topics for this program is:

May 12: What is Alzheimer's Disease, diagnosis/treatment/management, by Susan Black, M.D.

May 19: Home Management, issues and concerns, by Mary Hamilton, RN, BSN, and Diana Tate, CRT, CAD.

May 26: Long-Term Care - Nursing Homes by David Solomont, LNHA Academy Manor Nursing Home.

June 2: Legal Matters/Financial Aspects by Attorney Paul Twomey, and a speaker from the Department of Public Welfare, long-term care office.

June 9: Psychological Aspects, stress/relaxation techniques, by Judith Donovan, MSW, LICSW.

The Andover Council on Aging offers other programs and services for Alzheimer's victims and their families.

An Alzheimer's support group meets from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. the first and third Tuesday of every month at the senior center offering information and support for caregivers. A Thursday evening support group will meet monthly at the conclusion of the Alzheimer's series.

The Andover Adult Day Care program offers an organized program of activity, socialization, positive stimulation and health monitoring for frail elders at the senior center for a nominal fee. Andover residents who suffer from Alzheimer's may join the Alzheimer's Registry which will provide a current photo and pertinent information to assist the police if the victim wanders and gets lost.

Non-residents are welcome to participate in all of the Council on Aging programs for Alzheimer's victims. They should inquire at their local Council on Aging about programs in their town. For further information, call Outreach Coordinator Elizabeth Leed.

To Observe Hospital Week

Bon Secours Hospital is gearing up to celebrate National Hospital Week May 8-13.

The theme for this year's National Hospital Week is "You're Our Specialty." Events will focus employee and public attention on the many contributions hospitals make to communities throughout the year.

Marathon tri-athlete Dave McGillivray will appear at a corporate luncheon Tuesday, May 10, and provide information on the 1988 Bon-a-Thon, scheduled for September, to benefit Bon Secours Hospital's cancer management program.

An eight-week session focusing on weight management will be held in the trustees conference room from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. beginning Tuesday, May 10.

A free four-part series entitled the "Better Breathing and Living Workshop," for persons with chronic shortness of breath, begins Thursday, May 12, in the hospital's auditorium.

Ground-breaking ceremony activities will be held Friday, May 13, for the new Physicians Office Building/Maternal Child Health Center. A brief ceremony is scheduled for 8 a.m. at the construction site on hospital grounds.

Bon Secours Hospital employees will celebrate National Hospital Week by participating in health and fitness programs and family activities that include a picnic at Canobie Lake Park, Salem, N.H., and discount admission to the American Textile History Museum in North Andover.

For further information, contact the hospital's public affairs department.

Annual Meeting Tonight

Creative Living, Inc., a local non-profit group that seeks to establish innovative residences for adult retarded citizens, will hold its annual meeting today at 6:30 p.m. at the Prescott House Nursing Home in North Andover.

The meeting's agenda will include reelection of Larry Larsen, Ph.D., of Andover as president and the introduction of new members of the board of directors. Refreshments will be served.

The group, comprised of parents, relatives, professionals and other interested individuals, strives to ensure that mentally retarded adults who have always lived with their families will be guaranteed a home when their parents or family can no longer care for them.

Their goals are supported by periodic fund-raising events and proceeds from the retail store, Classic Threads, at 447 Essex St., Lawrence, provide the majority of financial support. Classic Threads, operated entirely by community volunteers, offers new quality merchandise at discounted prices.

The Andover Historical Society presents a new exhibition, "Andover's Agricultural Heritage." A special opening was held Sunday, May 1, at the society's museum on Main Street between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

The exhibition, installed in the meeting room gallery and in the adjacent barn, focuses on the period from the early 19th century to the present. The rise and fall of commercial dairy, poultry, grain and fruit farms will be illustrated with maps, photographs, tools and equipment and memorabilia from the collections of the historical society and of private individuals. Interviews with working and retired farmers, farmers' widows and others, conducted by the society's oral history committee, are the source of much of the information on 20th-century farms and farming practices. A slide-tape program on the Armenian truck gardens in West Andover, particularly that of the Dargoonians, will bring "Andover's Agricultural Heritage" up to the present day. Visitors may enjoy testing their agricultural knowledge in a special

"What is it?" display of tools and equipment.

For almost three centuries, agriculture played a vital role in the life and prosperity of the Andovers. Yet today, with the exception of the truck gardens in West Parish, few commercial farms survive. Most of the major farmlands have been sold during the last 50 years and either divided into house lots or developed for commercial or educational establishments.

Fortunately, some evidence of Andover's agrarian past can still be seen, both in the barns that are scattered about the landscape and in the Andover Historical Society's upcoming exhibition, "Andover's Agricultural Heritage," which will be on view from May 1 until October 14.

The exhibit is curated by Director/Cura-

Host Families Needed

Kathleen Wilson of Andover, one of the exhibitors at Andover's Crafts In The Park to be held Saturday, May 7 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Andover Field Service to provide scholarships for local and foreign students.

The Andover branch of the American Field Service has received applications from two foreign students who wish to experience a year in New England.

Arnaud, 17 years old, comes from Brussels, Belgium. He has an older brother and describes himself as "enthusiastic and talkative." He loves his own city but would very much like to live near and visit the ocean. His favorite sport is wind surfing. He is a good student and speaks English well. Arnaud says he wishes "to discover the USA, a new way of life, new people, new friends and to learn English, too, to be more open-minded and to have a great experience of life."

Janne is a 17-year-old girl from Aabenraa, Denmark, a 750-year-old city near the German border. Her teachers describe her as mature, friendly, openminded and independent. She is a happy, "smiley" person who enjoys people and is eager to meet challenges and competition. She excels in swimming, basketball and handball and is an excellent student. By living in the U.S., she hopes to "speak and write English better, learn about another country and its people, try new sports, enjoy another family and become more independent." She hopes some family will choose to host her for the school year.

Both Janne and Arnaud hope to join more than three thousand AFS foreign students finding host families and homes in the USA. These youngsters will help spread intercultural understanding between nations. Andover AFS already has one family hosting a Peruvian girl next year. The organization would welcome host families for Janne and Arnaud. For more information, call Dave Wahr or Mrs. Bruce Johnson.

What does the term "eglomise" mean?

Eglomise is a centuries old technique of painting on the reverse side of glass. Although Architectural detail and lettering are kept uniform by silk screening, the coloring of our buildings and landscaping is hand painted. As a result, the tones and the shading of each painting vary from rendering to another. And the "eglomise" technique has a distinct look all its own. Incidentally, the name "eglomise" is derived from Jean Baptiste Glom, an eighteenth century French artist, who is generally given credit for inventing this technique.

Canoe Race Benefits Foundation

The Lou Marcel Memorial Annual Canoe Race celebrates its 10th anniversary on Saturday, June 11. The race is sponsored by Coors and proceeds will benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

Canoes of all shapes and sizes, crewed by costumed people, will set off at 8:30 a.m. for a journey down the Merrimack River. The race begins at the Essex County Correctional Alternative Center on Marston Street in Lawrence and winds down the river to the Crescent Yach Club in Bradford. Refreshments will be provided, Coors t-shirts and caps will be handed out and trophies will be awarded to first, second and third-place finishers in three divisions, for the most original costumes, the best Coors theme, the largest canoe and to the canoe raising the most money.

Pledges are collected by participants prior to the race. Life jackets are required and entrants must supply their own canoes.

The March of Dimes is celebrating its 50th anniversary. The money raised will go a long way toward preventing birth defects. The local goal of the March of Dimes is to reduce the incidence of low birth weight; 20 percent of all infants born with birth effects are low-birth-weight babies (under 5.5 pounds).

For more information, call the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation in Andover.

Historians Elect Officers

By Virginia Lopez Begg

The Andover Historical Society held its annual meeting April 14 at the Society's headquarters, the Amos Blanchard House on Main Street. Charlotte Smith, new director/curator, thanked members for their warm welcome and spoke about upcoming challenges.

Following committee reports, Karen Herman, outgoing president, and Barbara Thibault, curator of education, gave their annual reports. Herman's report reviewed the year's highlights, especially the five grants the society received and the successful search for a new director/curator.

She thanked the numerous volunteers who staff the society's many committees and was especially grateful to Thibault and Margaret Hughes, assistant to the director, for their extra effort and support during the months the society was without a director/curator. Thibault emphasized the wide range of people who use the society's facilities: house and barn museum, research library, exhibit galleries and extensive collections. Last year more than 5,000 people, from local school children to foreign visitors, used the society's resources for "learning, researching and interpreting local and American history."

Installation of the Andover's Historical Society's new officers and directors followed. Gratitude was expressed to Frederick Fitzgerald and Jean Sand for their long service as officers and to Virginia Cole, Susan Harris and Patricia Snedeker, retiring as directors.

Herman and Thibault brought members

Former Townsman Photographer To Present Work In Exhibit

Northern Essex Community College's Bentley Library Gallery will feature an exhibit by photojournalists Bryan Eaton and Carl Russo through June 4.

graphs from his 1986 visit to Cambodian and Laotian refugee camps with Congressman Chester G. Atkins. Russo, also a photographer with the Lawrence Eagle Tribune, will feature his work as a photojournalist, including people, places and things.

Eaton, who grew up in Salisbury and Newburyport and attended Northern Essex Community College, began his career while still in school as a stringer for the Newburyport Daily News. He joined the Eagle Tribune in 1978 and was appointed chief photographer in 1984. Events he has covered include the Blizzard of 1978 and the Lawrence disturbances in 1984.

Russo, a Methuen resident and 1983 graduate of Northern Essex Community College, began working for the Eagle Tribune in 1986 after working for the Andover Townsman for three years.

A gallery reception for the photographers will be held Sunday, May 15, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited. The exhibit and reception are sponsored by the Northern Essex Alumni Association.

The gallery is open Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

up to date on the society's barn project. With the aid of a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the society has been able to proceed with its plans to study Amos Blanchard's 1818 English-style barn and the historic artifacts it contains in order to better present them in the light of modern scholarship. The grant enabled the society to consult with ten experts in various fields related to the barn. An architect, preservationist and specialist in historic agriculture were among those who evaluated the barn museum and made recommendations.

A slide show outlining the suggestions for the barn museum was then presented. While some of the goals could be accomplished quickly, others, such as restoration of the grounds, are long-term objectives. Refreshments followed the slide show's conclusion.

Officers for the Andover Historical Society for 1988-89 are Norma Gammon, president; Gratia Mahony, first vice president; Andrew Caffrey, Jr., second vice president; Karen Herman, treasurer; Barbara Swift, assistant treasurer; Randall Hanson, recording secretary; Mel Jurgen, corresponding secretary. Members of the board of directors include James Batchelder, Neal McGovern, W. David Rodger, Joan Patrakis, Frederick Fitzgerald, Cornelia LeMaitre, Priscilla Alden, Robin Sung, Margaret Roberts, Susan O'Leary, Thomas Curtin and Wesley Grace.

High School Presents 'Grease'

By Elaine Carras

The J. Everett Collins Center will be host to Andover High School's production of Grease this weekend.

Directed by Robert A. Lague, the student actors/dancers/singers will take the stage Friday, May 6 and Saturday, May 7. Assistant director is W. Douglas Halstead, III, a foreign language teacher at Doherty Junior High School.

Grease tells the tale of students at Rydell High School in the 1950s. There are "Greasers, nerds and Pink Ladies," but the spotlight shines on two teens, Sandy Dumbrowski and Danny Zuko. Sandy is wholesome and naive, while Danny is cool and strong. The combination makes for a complicated course to love and plenty of laughs too.

This year, the musical is choreographed by Shorey Walker, AHS senior. The stage manager is senior Holly Shanaman.

It's been hard work for Walker, Shanaman and all the students involved, but they don't seem to mind. "I have been in other plays, but I have never sung or danced more than I do in this one," said freshman Kim Gould.

"It is a lot of work, but I like it," said Elaine O'Brien, a sophomore.

Junior Sara Horton said the cast is like one big family. "We are so close," she said.

Songs that will be heard in the musical include "Shakin' at the High School Hop" and "Mooning." The production ends with the entire cast singing "We Go Together."

Concert At Chapel

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a Concert of Concerti, featuring the Academy Chamber Orchestra with student soloists, in Cochran Chapel on Friday, May 6, at 8 p.m.

The program will include the Boccherini Concerto in B flat for Cello and Orchestra featuring Alexandra Sterlin, soloist; the Mozart Concerto No. 3, K.216 for Violin and Orchestra featuring Tanja Aalto, soloist; the Vivaldi Concerto in D Major for Guitar and Orchestra featuring Corey Lague cast most of the roles twice to give more students a chance to appear in Grease. They are:

Sandy Dumbrowski: Patricia Squibb and Becky Penner; Danny Zuko: Steve Devoir and Chris Workman; Miss Lynch: Ann Marie Charland and Monica Dugal; Patty Simcox: Jill Coon and Caroline Gibson; Eugene Florcezyk: James Robinson and Tim Fallon; Jan: Julie Casanave and Beth Robinson; Marty: Jen Wilson and Laura Fallon; Betty Rizzo: Amy Cooper and Mandy Gulezian; Doody: Andrew Bernard; Roger: Todd McAllister; Kenickie: Charles Woodell; Sonny Latierra: Ed Pascucci and Doug Rogers; Frenchy: Sarah Walker and Althea Rivera; Vince Fontain: Neil Fater and Brett Duggan; Johnny Casino: Steve Whitley; Cha Cha DiGregoria: Shorey Walker and Erika Wood; and Teen Angel: Randall Bachner and Joe Gillam.

The dancers in Grease are Tania Bernard, Alison Butland, Sharon Hastings, Sara Horton, Katie Karp, Jo Li, Simone McBean, Jenn Milne, Jennifer Roman, Christine Spignesi, Karen Watkinson and Jen Wu.

The chorus is made up of Kristen Alberich, Mike Barrett, Diane Bohaker, Tracy Burkholder, Elaine Carras, Cheryl Castignoli, Stephanie Couture, Shelly Currier, Dave Friedenson, Kim Gould, Terry Hurler, Sean McDonald, Elaine O'Brien, Anne Pease, Jeff Shapiro, Bonny Weinstein and Steven Wrigley.

Stromberg and Cooper, the popular family entertainment team, will appear at the North Andover Middle School Saturday, May 14, at 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Their versatility and zany comedy keeps everyone, young and old, laughing. With more than 10 years and 3,500 performances behind them, they have become two of the most sought-after performers in New England. Their free personal style is highlighted with slapstick drama and poignant storytelling.

The Stromberg and Cooper performances are presented by the North Andover Schools Enrichment Council.

World War II Photographs On Exhibit

"The Faces of War," a collection of previously unpublished World War II photographs, will be on exhibit at Governor Dummer Academy's Carl Youngman Gallery through May 20.

The opening reception will be Friday, May 6, from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The gallery is open weekdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and weekends from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The three dozen photographs are a historic record of the war years 1940-43 taken by CBS News, Robert Capa, Telphoto, Inc. and United Press International, Inc. They belong to Edward Bliss, Jr. of Newburyport, who established the collection in 1967.

A former newspaper reporter, Bliss joined CBS News in New York as a writer during World War II and later served as news editor for Edward R. Morrow and Walter Cronkite. He will donate this collection to American University's School of Communication where he founded the broadcast journalism program and from which he retired as professor in 1977.

String Quartet To Perform

The music department of Phillips Academy will present the Faculty String Quartet in recital at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 8, in the Timken Room at Graves Hall. The program will feature the Brahms String Quartet in B flat Major, Op. 67 and the Mozart String Quartet in B flat Major, K. 458 (The Hunt). The performers are Gerald Itzkoff and Michael Rosenbloom, violin; Catherine Consiglio, viola; and William Thomas, cello.

Itzkoff attended Manhattan School of Music and received his Bachelor of Music degree at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, studying with Philipp Naegele and Raphael Bronstein. He later became soloist and concertmaster of the Heidelberg Chamber Orchestra in West Germany and completed several world tours with them. Itzkoff is principal second violinist of the New Hampshire Symphony, a participant in the Monadnock Music Festival each summer and a frequent performer of chamber music and solo recitals in the Boston area.

Rosenbloom plays in the Boston Esplanade Orchestra, is an assistant concertmaster of the Boston Ballet Orchestra and a violin teacher at Phillips Exeter and Phillips Academy.

Consiglio received her master's degree from New England Conservatory and has been on the faculty of Oklahoma University, Rice University and, most recently, the University of Connecticut. She has performed in orchestras in the United States and Central America and participated in music festivals abroad. Consiglio has played solo and chamber recitals in the New England area and has been heard regularly on the Connecticut Public Radio for the last three years.

Thomas received his bachelor degree from Oberlin Conservatory and his master's degree from Penn State University, studying with Richard Kapuscinski and Pierre Fournier. He has performed in the United States and Europe and has been chairman of the Phillips Academy music department for 13 years.

Mozart's Quartet in B flat Major, K. 458, which dates from 1784, is one of the six string quartets dedicated to Joseph Haydn. The name Hunt Quartet refers to the opening arpeggio theme which suggests a horn call and does not really suit the character of the Quartet in B flat, K. 458 which was the first of the Viennese quartets to be entered in Mozart's thematic catalogue of his works where it is dated November 9, 1784. The hunting motif of the first movement was quite customary at that time and suggests Haydn.

The first movement of Brahms' Quartet in B flat Major, Op. 67 has the fanfarelike character of the hunting themes Haydn and Mozart loved so well. A merry chase ensues between the main theme and a number of minor sub-themes. The second movement maintains a similar mood of the first. A mood of veiled mystery prevails in the third movement and the last movement is full of surprises. This work represents the happy synthesis of the classical form, romantic fantasy and the warm geniality of Brahms at his best.

The adult heart beats about 40 million times a year.

Eggs

Responding to concerns over a newly-released report suggesting a slightly elevated incidence of salmonella food poisoning in the northeast, Massachusetts Food and Agriculture Commissioner August Schumacher, Jr., joined other farm officials in the region in reassuring consumers that it is "perfectly safe" to eat properly-cooked eggs and other poultry products.

Schumacher emphasized that the report, issued this week by the Atlanta-based Centers for Disease Control, merely theorizes, but offers no conclusive evidence, that salmonella organisms may pass from a chicken's reproductive system to the eggs it produces.

Like Mother, Like Daughter

Norma and Eilene Eisenberg spoke about traumatic brain injury to different groups in different parts of the country on April 28. Their expertise and interest stems from the accident Richard Eisenberg incurred ten years ago. Since then Richard's mother, Norma, and sister, Eilene, have, in their own ways, become involved in activities dealing with this issue.

Norma, school psychologist at Andover High School, presented at the national conference held at New England Medical Center. She addressed the behavioral and emotional issues of the pediatric head injured student returning to school. The conference was attended by 250 people.

Eilene, part of the personnel team at John Hopkins University, addressed the graduate program of counseling from the University of Maryland and her undergraduate degree in psychology from Boston University.

Peace Group To Present Film

Gaza Ghetto: Portrait of a Palestinian Family, an award-winning American-Swedish documentary film, will be shown Friday, May 6, at 8 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Church, 6 Locke St.

The film follows the life of the Dimrawi family, who live in Jabalia refugee camp, the largest camp in the Gaza Strip and West Bank, areas under Israeli military occupation. The film captures vivid moments from their daily existence, their joys—a child is born—and their tragedies—a grandmother dies. Family members recount episodes from their history and express their hopes for peace in the area. General Ariel Sharon and other Israeli officials are also interviewed.

Karen Cooper, director of the New York Film Forum, said that Gaza Ghetto "puts a human face on an international crises... A poignant, powerful argument for a creative solution to the tragedy of homeless Palestinians."

The film is being sponsored by Andover People for Peace.

Y Offers Back Program

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will hold the Y's Way to a Healthy Back program, designed for those who suffer discomfort and pain in the lower back and need to increase overall flexibility. The program was developed by medical specialists and taught by certified instructors.

The six-week program will meet twice weekly from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. beginning May 10. Studies indicate 80 percent of back discomfort is attributed to a combination of muscle weakness, stress and tension.

The program is geared for all types of people, including regular exercisers who still suffer back discomfort. For more information, contact the YMCA.

Students' Parents To Get Collaborative Questionnaire

By Julie M. Barry

The School Committee refined a questionnaire that will be sent to parents of all children 11 years old and younger to gather opinions regarding the proposed Collaborative School.

After discussing the content of the survey and making some changes, the committee approved the survey by a four-to-one vote. Committee member Susan Poore passed on this vote.

An introduction to the survey is being formulated and will be presented at the next School Committee meeting for approval. Upon its completion, the survey will be ready for distribution.

Results of the survey will give the committee an indication of support or lack of support for the Collaborative School, and this will affect the committee's future action toward the school.

"The committee will analyze the results and determine if they should continue working for the project or not," said committee member Richard Neal.

If there is strong support, the School Committee should continue to support the project and bring it to Town Meeting for a vote, said committee member Michael Frishman.

But, he said, "to continue to drive forth with this (project) without support from the community is useless."

The School Committee isn't setting forth specific guidelines to interpret the results.

Poore stood alone in her opinion of the survey, and her suggestions regarding the wording of the survey were voted down by the other committee members.

Poore says she thinks the survey is skewed towards "the current wish of the current School Committee," which she says favors the Collaborative School.

The remaining members of the committee disagree. "The simple fact that the School Committee is discussing the Collaborative School could be viewed as support," Donald Robb, committee chairman, said. But Robb said he doesn't think the survey is skewed; he says it's asking parents if they support or don't support the Collaborative School.

"I resent the implication that this isn't an objective study," Frishman said.

Poore said she felt "honor-bound" to suggest other ways, rather than an internal method, to conduct the survey.

Jack Dziadul, head of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, requested that CNS be allowed to include some of its information with the survey so both pros and cons would be available to those surveyed.

This was denied by a four-to-one vote of the committee. Poore was the only committee member who supported Dziadul's request.

Robb said the School Committee will present balanced, factual information that doesn't argue one way or another.

Gillette Directors Stay

The Coniston Group's attempt to win four positions on the board of directors at Gillette has failed, according to preliminary results of the proxy battle. Gillette directors will remain on the board.

The results are preliminary, according to Richard Gauthier, spokesman for Gillette, who said the directors received 52 percent of the stockholder's votes, compared to the Coniston Group's 48 percent.

C.T. Corp., an independent inspector of elections, was hired by both contenders to count votes and certify the election, Gauthier said.

"We'd (Gillette) like to consider it (preliminary results) conclusive," he said. But the votes won't officially be certified until next week.

Gauthier said the feeling at Gillette is "one of gratification that many of the stockholders support management's position about how this company is being run and the way they return value to the stockholders."

At this point, there are no plans for any major factory shut-downs or changes in course, according to Gauthier. "There were no and are not any plans for drastic cuts at the Andover plant," he said. "The Andover plant is considered critical in Gillette's success."

Gauthier said he didn't know what the Coniston Group's next step would be.

Newspaper reports, however, state that the Coniston Group is calling for a recount of the votes.

Pre-trial litigation on the solicitation process during the election began yesterday. This suit involves the way the Coniston Group went about soliciting votes for the election, Gauthier said.

The direction Gillette takes is contingent on Coniston's actions, said Gauthier. "There's many routes that could happen," he said.

Powell May Head To Convention

By Frank Messina

Her husband may have her heart, but Gov. Michael Dukakis has her vote.

Mary Jane Powell, the newly-elected Andover housing authority commissioner, is looking forward to rendezvousing with the Duke in Atlanta this coming July for an intimate little soiree—just her, the Duke, and about 2,000 other Democratic delegates at the party's 1988 national convention.

Last week, at local Democratic caucus, Powell was elected an alternate delegate by acclamation.

For her, being an alternate delegate is definitely not second-best.

"It's what I wanted to be," Powell said. "As an alternate I'm not restricted to just one delegation. An alternate is credentialed to be able to work the floor—go from one delegation to another."

An alternate working the national convention has to be attentive, she says. And, apparently, fast on her feet.

Whereas a member of the Wyoming delegation must stay in that group, if support for Dukakis is needed in that state, "I can be in Wyoming" said Powell.

A long-time Democrat who has been heavily involved in state politics, Powell is, naturally, looking forward to her first national convention.

With local son Michael Dukakis expected to breeze to the nomination, "the Massachusetts delegation is on a high right now," she said. "I think it will be great fun."

For several years now, Powell has put in time as head of State Senator Pat McGovern's finance committee and as a member of the state convention. Going another step forward, winning a chance to be part of the national convention, "is an honor," she said. "It's nice to be rewarded for years of hard work."

Before last Saturday's caucus, Powell wasn't at all sure she should pack her bags for Georgia.

Much of her support lay in other districts she is well-known in, such as North Andover. Limited to recruiting supporters from Andover, Powell managed to attract 121 people from town who spent several hours on their day off in Lowell at the caucus.

"I couldn't believe it," she said. "I had 14 relatives come, but the balance of people were Andover residents. I really think this speaks well of the Andover Democratic Committee and the Andover Democratic Associates."

"I owe a great deal to Democrats in Andover," said Powell.

So on to the big convention, where she feels that Dukakis will emerge as the Democratic presidential nominee, although she prefers to wait until June primaries in California and New Jersey to certify the governor as a winner.

Parent, Trombly Receive Contracts

By Julie M. Barry

The School Committee voted unanimously to award transportation contracts amounting to $764,896 to two companies, Parent Bus Service and Trombly Motor Coach, at its Tuesday night meeting.

The administration's original recommendation issued contracts to three companies, Parent Bus Service, Trombly Motor Coach and Laidlaw Transit. After much discussion at the meeting Tuesday, April 26, it was shot down by the committee.

Following is the final breakdown of school bus transportation awards:

•Parent Bus Service will be responsible for 15 vehicles, including two late trips, at $2,091 per day, totaling $376,463 for fiscal year '89.

This is an increase of four vehicles, as the original proposal assigned 11 vehicles and two late trips to Parent Bus Service.

They will service Shawshen Early Childhood Center, Sanborn Elementary, West Elementary and the secondary school children in those districts.

•Trombly Motor Coach was awarded a

Parking Problems

The continued prohibition to provide some relief to the owners of the former Andover Lanes bowling alley property would seem to be a threat to any possible development there.

Owens of the property have been refused permission to develop the property by the zoning board of appeals and the planning board because there is insufficient parking spaces available as stipulated by a 1985 town meeting approved bylaw.

The owners, G. Bradely Richards and Benjamin Osgood, have plans to convert the bowling alley property into retail shops with some provisions for offices. There are only 12 parking spots available as the property now stands. Under provisions of the 1985 bylaw, 85 spaces would be needed to accommodate the development as planned.

Counsel for the developers, Reginald Marden, informed the planners last week that his clients had spent several months searching for parking in the area and found it to be non-existent as far as purchase and development is concerned.

Russ Moran, chairman of the planning board, said that the purpose of the bylaw was to force developers to provide adequate parking facilities rather than relying on the town for such relief.

Such an attitude seems somewhat utopian in nature.

The town could bend a little and allow the developers to use the municipal parking lot across the street as some sort of relief to the problem. After all a similar situation exists in a nearby shopping area.

Marden is also right when he states that a retail store on Main street was converted to a bank without any consideration of new parking bylaw provisions.

There are other examples, assuredly, of escaping the full brunt of the bylaw provisions if one were to examine the downtown business area closely enough.

It does not seem that 85 spaces would be necessary for the type of retail shop development planned for the Park street area. While more than 12 may be necessary, frankly, finding 85 spots to meet the bylaw would probably result in all-day parkers flocking to the open spaces unless the owners were burdened with the further expense of policing the area.

It would seem that the town would better be served by insuring that any conversion of the building be aesthetically acceptable to the business area, rather than worrying about making the developers produce a monumental parking lot.

Failing to provide some sort of relief to the property owners would certainly appear to be a threat to the appearance and economic health of the downtown area.

Unable to meet the stipulated parking requirements, the property could lie idle and, ultimately, become an eyesore, if not permitted to be developed.

Frankly, there should be some sort of compromise the town could reach with the property owners to avoid such a possibility.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — May 1888

The plans for the new schoolhouse which were adopted by the town at the March meeting are now completed and the Committee will receive proposals until Wednesday, May 16. The building is to be completed on or before the first of December next.

The School Committee's annual report is out, and copies may be had at the Town Clerk's office. The children are already calling for it to find their names on the not absent or tardy lists. The large number printed in this honorable record is one of the most encouraging things in the report.

The first "May Breakfast" in Andover has been given and we can but hope it is the permanent establishment of a pleasant custom, to which our people can look forward to each year.

Mr. Henry P. Barnard, who died in Lawrence suddenly of heart disease on Sunday, resided in Andover for several years.

The Andover Townsman can be had at the store of Mrs. Messer every Friday afternoon.

On Wednesday evening the woods at the back of the towns gravel pit near the Red Spring were discovered to be on fire.

75 Years Ago — May 1913

The selectmen voted to instruct the janitor of the town house to notify all parties desiring to engage the town hall for dances that no "bunny-hugs," "turkeytrots," or any similar dancing will be permitted.

The resignation of George Dick as driver of the town teams was accepted and Wm. B. Collins was appointed to succeed him.

The nationwide movement throughout the churches of the land, of prayer for China, was observed to some extent in Andover churches last Sunday.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Keep An Open Mind

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am writing in response to your April 28, 1988, editorial regarding the proposal of Harry Axelrod to swap some land for conservation in order to allow construction of a 33-unit condominium complex next to the Sheraton Rolling Green on Lowell Street.

You are correct in assuming that all of the neighbors most affected by this proposal are opposed.

Mr. Axelrod will be seeking ten variances from the town before he can proceed. Our main concern is the conservation of the wetlands and how development may affect our water table.

The current wetlands appears to be a direct result of IRS, Route 495 and Sheraton Rolling Green Hotel construction and further development and overuse of this property could seriously jeopardize all surrounding properties if this changes the water table in any way. Neither the developer nor the town will offer any guarantees or assurances that we won't have water problems.

The Dean Circle area residences have had some water problems recently and the proposed project intends to direct the existing flow of water in addition to what increase flow the new condos would create in this direction.

It was necessary for me to replace my entire septic system and leaching field last fall. There was available a less expensive option of installing leaching pits, which the Board of Health discouraged. Primarily because of the high water table in this area, we were told leaching pits wouldn't work and, in fact, overflow waste from our system would contaminate the water supply. What do we know about the septic systems already installed and the consequences of raising the water table even further? We don't fully understand yet all the threats and issues involved.

The issues here, however, are serious and should not simply be overlooked or merely looked upon as a small group of neighbors fighting the big developer for protection of space. Rather, it's a small neighborhood attempting to defend our homes from further flood damage and, most important, the entire Town of Andover protecting their water supply from possible pollution.

Let's evaluate the Axelrod plan with an open mind, but please, keep a keen eye focused on the long-range consequences involved with the overuse of this land and the far-reaching flood and pollution issues at stake.

Grateful For Assistance

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Without warning, and with no previous medical history, our seven-year-old daughter suffered a seizure causing unconsciousness and a blocked airway. This nightmare-come-true occurred Saturday evening, April 30, at the West Elementary School while we were attending a ballet program for the children.

Fortunately, a pay phone was close by and I tried to remain composed as I called the emergency number. I want to thank dispatchers Wanda Batchelder and Dan Prestia for their calm and efficient manner in taking my call. Thanks also to police officers Brian Pattullo and Charles Heseltine who arrived so quickly. Our gratitude to firefighters (EMT) Richard Dalton and Kevin Moore who came moments later and were so good to her during the Lawrence General where her condition quickly improved.

These public safety professionals are on duty 24 hours a day, trained and equipped to handle any emergency. Yet, we tend to take them for granted—until that moment of need. We were impressed with their skills and kindness during this very scary moment in our lives.

contract for 14 vehicles at $2,158 per day totaling $388,433 for fiscal year '89.

This is five more than the original consignment of nine buses.

They will service St. Augustine's School, Pike School, Bancroft Elementary, South Elementary and the secondary students in those districts.

• Laidlaw Transit will not be serving Andover. The majority of the committee voted against awarding this company a proposed contract for nine buses. Committee member Richard Neal said he would not support Laidlaw due to the unfavorable publicity he has read.

Francis Paul, assistant superintendent, said he had made this recommendation because he had faith in the new management at Laidlaw Transit.

Questions concerning the administration of Parent Bus Service were raised at the meeting on April 26. Providing copies of driver's licenses, proof of insurance and physical examinations of employees has been a problem in the past, according to Paul.

Before voting to award Parent Bus Service their contract, Chairman Donald Robb said "my concern is, can we be guaranteed that required documentation will be on file?"

Paul said that the administration would not permit any vehicle to be used without appropriate documentation on file, and he said his office would compile a monthly report for the School Committee.

Lack of two-way radios in Parent Bus Service's vehicles was also an issue. This shortage was attributed to theft. Next year's buses will have locks to prevent stealing the radios.

Non-taxable Garden Supplies

Buyers and sellers of garden supplies should be aware that many of the supplies used for growing and caring for vegetable gardens are non-taxable under state law, the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture advises.

While non-food supplies such as garden tools and lawn and flower seeds are taxable, any seed or plants which will produce food must be sold tax-free, says James M. Cassidy, chief of the agriculture department's Bureau of Farm Products.

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 5, 1988

Warriors Top League Division

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity baseball team remained atop the Large School Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference through action this past Monday, despite the fact the Golden Warriors had a five-game victory streak snapped by Central Catholic.

Central ended Andover's win streak with a 5-4 triumph at O'Connell Playstead on Monday, but prior to that coach Dave Bettencourt's squad had extended its skein with a come-from-behind 9-8 triumph over Chelmsford at AHS and a 13-3 romp over Methuen at the Rangers' Nicholson Stadium field.

Entering yesterday's game at Wilmington the Warriors were 5-1 in the league and 6-2 overall, a half-game ahead of both perennial power Billerica (5-2) and Large School newcomer Lawrence High (4-1).

Both Billerica and Lawrence squandered opportunities to tie Andover for first place last Monday, the former dropping a 5-4 verdict to defending division titlist Chelmsford, and the latter racing from behind in the final two innings to salvage a wild 12-12 tie with Lowell. That night game was called by an 11 p.m. curfew and will be replayed in its entirety at a later date.

Andover also has a makeup game scheduled with Lawrence. The two teams were rained out last Thursday and will now play that contest next Tuesday, May 10 at Andover.

This afternoon the Golden Warriors were slated to face Billerica, and Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. Andover will host Northeastern Conference school Gloucester in a non-league makeup contest.

Andover continued to tear the cover off the ball in its most recent three games, maintaining better than a .400 team batting average after lashing 11 hits against Chelmsford, 17 against Methuen and 10 against Central Catholic.

Junior third baseman John Glynn enjoyed another productive week with 7-for-12, senior second baseman and Co-Capt. Scott Wallace was 5-for-13, and senior first baseman Chris Concemi broke out of his personal slump with a vengeance by going 6-for-11.

Righthanders Keith Abernathy and Wallace collected their first pitching victories of the season, taking some of the burden off junior ace Steve Surette who remains at 3-0 and turned in another solid relief stint against Central.

Andover, 9-8

The Golden Warriors needed eight innings and a couple of impressive rallies to subdue visiting Chelmsford, but it finally ended in the bottom of the eighth when junior Steve Howes lashed a one-out, bases-loaded single to rescue DH Matt Pothier with the winning run.

Chelmsford had various leads of 2-0, 5-3 and 8-5 during the course of the game, but Andover tied it with three runs in the bottom of the sixth before winning it on Howes' clutch basehit.

Chris Concemi sparked the Andover attack with 3-for-4 while cleanup hitter Mike Moriarty, Scott Wallace and Howes contributed two hits apiece.

Co-Capt. Tom Murray and Glynn spanked one safety apiece, and scoring two runs each were Pothier, Wallace and Murray.

Moriarty finished with three RBI, Murray and Glynn had two apiece and Howes one.

Junior righthander John Russell was the starting pitcher, but had to leave the game in the second inning after a line shot back to the box struck him on the throwing hand.

Fortunately the injury turned out to be "only" and bad bruise, and Russell was able to come back several days later to hurl against Central.

Junior righthander Todd Musteraid was first in relief for Russell, and then Scott Wallace worked the final four innings and chalked up the victory.

The Golden Warriors beat one of the league's better pitchers in Chelmsford senior righthander Dave Bellemore.

He entered with a career won-lost record of 12-1, but the cold and windy conditions didn't help as he was hit hard and also walked eight.

Andover centerfielder Rick Lafond played another strong defensive game.

Andover, 13-3

The Golden Warriors put this game away early, scoring four runs in each of the first two innings to build a huge 8-0 lead.

With this victory coach Bettencourt bested one of his best friends, Methuen head man Bill Blood who has worked at and attended numerous clinics and schools with the AHS coach.

Steve Surette started on the hill for Andover, but left after retiring the Rangers 1-2-3 in the first inning. With the big 8-0 lead the strategy was to save Surette for the key Lawrence game which was ultimately washed out.

Todd Musterait once again worked briefly in relief, and then junior Keith Abernathy tossed two-hit ball over the final five innings to notch his first varsity victory. Abernathy fanned four and walked three.

John Glynn was the leader of the 17-hit barrage with 4-for-5 and six RBI.

Surette was next in line with three hits, Abernathy went 2-for-3, Matt Pothier 2-for-4 and Wallace 2-for-5.

Adding one hit each were Mike Moriarty, Steve Howes, Chris Concerni and Musterait.

Moriarty also scored three runs while Tom Murray, Pothier, Wallace and Glynn crossed twice each.

Pothier opened the game by lofting a long double to the warning track in leftfield, and the Warriors were off to the races moments later when Wallace's hard two-hopper skipped past the Methuen shortstop for the first of 13 runs.

Central, 5-4

Andover's bubble of invincibility burst against Central Catholic on another cold, dank, drizzly and dreary afternoon, although the locals fought back from an early 3-0 deficit to make it close.

There were several ironies to the Central victory, the most noteworthy of which was the fact four Andover residents played a large part in the proceedings.

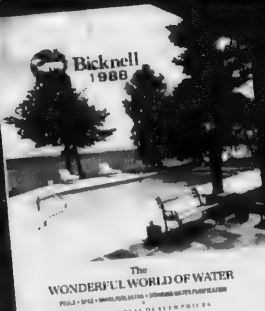

Junior righthander Dave Miles was the complete-game winning pitcher, hiking his record to 2-0 after effectively scattering 10 hits, walking two and whiffing two.

Junior catcher Glenn Farnham went 2-for-2 with a double and single, driving home a pair of runs with the two-bagger and a sacrifice fly.

Senior centerfielder Mike Lane contributed an RBI single, and senior second baseman Tom Tormey chipped in a basehit.

On this occasion coach Bettencourt lost out to another friend, CCHS first-year skipper Marc Pelletier having worked at a

Solomon Salvages Spring Week

By Dan Grams

The Andover High School Junior Varsity baseball team suffered a pair of setbacks during spring break week before rebounding to take the third contest. Righthander Curt Solomon led the way, firing a no-hit game at the Haverhill Hillies.

Lowell 5 - Andover 1

Andover spotted Lowell a quick 2-0 lead after the first inning and were defeated 5-1 in their MVC opener.

The Junior Warriors could only mount one serious threat, that in the third inning when Peter Reming drew a one-out walk and swiped second. Doug Howes drove Reming home with an RBI single to account for Andover's lone run.

Todd Mustrait took the loss with late relief help from Peter Radulski and Reming. Reming rung up a perfect 1-2-3 inning in his one-inning stint.

Howes picked up two of Andover's three hits while Dave Carriere sparked the other single.

Central Catholic 10 - Andover 6

Central and Andover butted heads for seven straight stanzas, but it was Central who walked away with a 10-6 extra-inning victory.

The Golden Warriors rallied three times to knot the score, but a five-run Central eighth was the difference.

Andover ace Chris Eggert took the loss, hurling the first seven plus innings. He struck out six, while issuing two free passes. The Red Raiders touched Eggert for nine safeties and Pat Finn was summoned.

Trailing 3-1, Andover evened the score at three in the fourth. Andy Weiner ripped a one-out single. Dan Ferris' sacrifice bunt was misplayed leaving school run by the Andover skipper in the summer.

Finally, Bettencourt is a former Central varsity coach and was there when several of the current Red Raiders were beginning their varsity careers.

This loss left Andover with a split of the season series against CCHS, the Golden Warriors winning the initial game 8-6.

John Russell (1-2 record) was the losing pitcher, settling down nicely after a tough first inning.

Steve Surette relieved for the final two frames, setting down six straight batters and chalking up one strikeout.

Central Catholic grabbed a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first when Dracut's John Daileanes doubled, Farnham ripped his RBI double, Ryan Buckley drilled a run-scoring single, and Mike Lane capped the uprising with an RBI single.

Andover came right back in typical 1988 fashion, tying it 3-3 in the top of the second. Sizzling John Glynn singled, Surette walked, and both scored on a two-base throwing error that occurred on Keith Abernathy's grounder to shortstop. Chris Conce-mi's infield out rescued Abernathy with the third run.

In the Central third Daileanes cracked his second double, Miles sacrificed him to third, and the move paid off when Farnham lofted his sacrifice fly to make it 4-3.

The eventual winning run came in the fifth as Miles walked, Farnham singled and Buckley lashed an RBI basehit.

Andover didn't go down easily, however, as Tom Murray hammered a triple in the top of the seventh and scored on Mike Moriarty's infield out.

runners on second and third. Singles by Doug Howes and Peter Reming brought home the Warriors' second and third runs.

Central went up 5-3 in the fifth, but the Warriors rallied for a third time to tie the score. Paul Lembo's double and Peter Radulski's single produced one rally. Walks to Finn and Weiner and a Dave Carriere HBP produced the fifth Warrior run. The Central hurler escaped further damage by inducing Howes to fly out to end the inning.

Andover outhit Central 12-11 with Howes leading with three hits. Radulski added a pair while Reming, Lembo, Solomon, Finn, Weiner, Ferris and Eggert all chipped in with safeties.

Curt Solomon shone defensively. Andover resident Chris Lane of Central was the spark for his team, making a key running catch to end a Warrior uprising and ripping a clutch single to start the fifth inning for Cental.

Andover 5 - Haverhill 1

Righthander Curt Solomon kept Haverhill off balance all day in a brilliant no-hit game. He struckout seven while walking just one and faced 24 batters while allowing just one ball to leave the infield all day.

Andover scored what proved to be the winning run in the fourth. Chris Eggert reached on a two-out error. Dave Carriere singled Eggert to third. Pat Finn unloaded a towering triple, plating Eggert and Carriere to give Andover a 3-1 lead.

Retiring the last 14 batters in order, Solomon ran up a perfect 1-2-3 innings on the day.

Andover's other pair of runs were chased home by Lembo and Finn. Finn had a big day at the plate, with a pair of hits and three RBIs. Lembo, Carriere, Ferris and Radulski had the other Warrior hits.

At promptly 8 a.m. more than 100 women who have paid their fee will tee off.

The Rose Cup is co-chaired by Carol Poor of Andover (who conceived the idea) and Elaine Buke of North Andover.

Returning committee members include Betty Jaffe, Joanne Abrahamson and Suzanne Burgess, all of Andover. New members include Nancy B. Norbedo and Gretchen Leone of North Andover.

As with last year, area business leaders and merchants are being contacted for sponsorships. Raffles and prizes are being donated; namely, a car for the hole in one, health club memberships, gift certificates, get-away weekends and special gifts for the longest drive or closest to the pin.

The Rose Cup Committee is inviting all women to participate. All that is needed is a desire to play golf, a club handicap and a willingness to help other women.

Limits Fees

Executive Office of Elder Affairs Secretary Paul J. Lanzikos reminds elders that there is a limit on how much doctors can charge Medicare beneficiaries in Massachusetts when the provided medical services are covered by Medicare.

"Medicare patients are now protected by a law known as the Medicare Ban on Balance Billing," he said, "and cannot be charged a fee more than the reasonable, approved amount determined by Medicare.

"For example, if the Medicare-approved amount for a service is $100,

Medicare pays up to 80 percent or, in this case, $80. You (or your supplemental insurance) are responsible only for the remaining 20 percent, or $20. Even if your doctor had originally billed you $150 for this service, you do not pay the $50 amount that exceeds the $10 approved charge," he explained.

Fees for routine office visits and physical exams are not limited by this law because Medicare does not cover such services.

You have the right to question any charges. Ask to have the billed amount clarified.

Second Tryouts On Weekend

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams will hold a second round of spring tryouts this Saturday, May 7, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Andover West Junior High School field.

Last weekend's inclement weather washed out the Saturday tryout, while the Sunday session went as scheduled.

All youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 years are eligible. No candidate may turn 16 years of age prior to August 1, 1988. All positions on both teams are open, with returning players required to earn their way back on their respective team.

All 13-year-old players should report at 1 p.m. and be prepared to work out until approximately 3 p.m. All 14- and 15-year-old players should report at 3 p.m. and be prepared to work out until approximately 5 p.m.

The Andover Blue and Gold squads compete in the two-division Greater Reading Pony League against teams from Stoneham, Wilmington, North Reading, Lynnfield and Reading.

The league season usually begins in mid-June and runs through mid-August and players should be ready to make a commitment for that time period.

The Blue and Gold teams have been very successful in their first three years of association with the GRPL.

Blue is the defending league co-champion, having tied Lynnfield for the overall league title last summer and has placed first in its division during the regular season three straight years.

Andover Gold won the Greater Reading

Pony League championship in 1985 and 1986. Last summer AG won its division title during the regular season for the third consecutive year, but lost a one-game semifinal playoff to Lynnfield to snap a string of four straight league titles (two in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League as well in 1983 and 1984).

Gold had also won five league championships in six years before Lynnfield snapped the string of successes.

Blue and Gold will play league schedules of 14 to 18 games and may also play several non-league and/or pre-season games.

If either or both finishes first or second in the division, they will qualify for the playoffs. There is also the possibility of some post-season tournament play at various locations around the state in August, although a final decision will not be made until the season begins.

Any player not making either Pony League team will have the opportunity to try out for the Andover Senior League and 13-year-old players picked for the Blue or Gold may also play in the Senior League, if they desire.

All candidates are reminded to wear baseball shoes and bring a glove to tryouts. A third tryout, if deemed necessary, will be held Sunday, May 8, and that day will also be reserved in case of another rainout.

Joe Iarrobino and Red Harris will coach the Blue team while Rick Harrison and Dan Grams will coach the Gold.

Anyone wishing further information may contact any of the coaches or Andover Youth Baseball Association Official Dick Allard.

To Present Oratorio At College

Mezzo-soprano Mary Westbrook-Geha, tenor William Cotten and baritone Robert Honeysucker will perform Sir Edward Elgar's The Dream of Gerontius, based on a Cardinal Newman poem on death and resurrection, in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher at Merrimack College in North Andover on Saturday, May 7, at 8 p.m. The concert, the final event in this year's Merrimack College Concert Series, will also feature the Concord Chorus and the Master Singers of Worcester, accompanied by the Indian Hill Orchestra, under the direction of F. John Adams.

Set to music by Elgar between 1899-1900, the oratorio/poem tells the story of an ordinary man (Gerontius) on the point of death and facing the final judgment.

Westbrook-Geha has appeared with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Oliver Chorale, the North Shore Philharmonic, the Rhode Island Symphony, the Cantata Singers and Banchetto Musicale and the college choirs of Harvard, Brandeis, Wellesley and Holy Cross. On Sunday mornings, she sings a Bach cantata as part of the "Emmanuel Music" program at Boston's Emmanuel Church. Her operatic roles include performances in the Magic Flute, The Rape of Lucretia, Amahl and the Night Visitors and in the critically-acclaimed Peter Sellers' productions of Julius Caesar and Das Kleine Maha- gonny. This season Westbrook-Geha has appeared with the Apple Hill Chamber Players, the Boston Premiere Ensemble, the Orchestra of St. Luke's and the New England Festival. She will be a guest artist at the Marlboro Festival in Vermont this summer.

Cotten has performed with the June Opera Festival of New Jersey, the Boston Concert Opera, the New Hampshire Symphony and the Monadnock Music Festival. His operatic roles include that of the miller in the world premiere of the Philip Glass/Robert Moran opera The Juniper Tree. Last summer he performed in the operas L'Ormino, The Music Shop and in A Midsummer Night's Dream at Wolf Trap in Washington, D.C.

Honeysucker created the role of Deodalus in the world premiere of Paul Earl's Icarus at the Brucknerfest in Linz, Austria. Winner of the National Opera Association Artists Award in 1983, he has performed with the Opera Company of Boston, the American Repertory Theatre, the St. Paul Opera Company, the Boston Lyric Opera and with many major symphony orchestras. Honeysucker sang with the Pittsburgh Symphony at the opening of the Great Woods Festival. Both Honeysucker and Cotten performed at Merrimack College this past fall in a concert of humorous classical chamber works.

Accessible Transit Expanding

State Transportation Undersecretary Ann M. Hershfang addressed the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission in Haverhill on the dramatically expanded steps the state is taking to improve accessible transportation and job and other opportunities for the elderly and handicapped. She outlined the advances made throughout the state by local Regional Transit Authorities (RTAs), non-profit agencies and the MBTA in providing accessible transportation for the disabled.

"Expanding accessible transportation is at the foundation of Governor Dukakis' commitment to provide Massachusetts' elderly and disabled citizens with new opportunities for jobs and education. Just as important is the new sense of independence these services help promote," Hershfang said. "With new and expanded programs, we're taking down barriers and allowing thousands of individuals to contribute their talents and to share in everything this state has to offer."

Some of the advances she outlined include:

In 1986 and 1987 the Merrimack Valley Regional Transportation Authority (MVRTA) received $81,398 through the state's mobility assistance program to purchase two wheelchair accessible vans and one minibus, all currently in service. Other recipients of MAP awards are Lawrence Rehabilitation Service Center and the Lorraine Post Building Association in Haverhill. Three other vehicles will go into service this year on the MVRTA, thanks to a $125,262 grant from the mobility assistance program. The MVRTA will purchase a wheelchair accessible minibus for its Weebus program and two vans and minibus on behalf of the Lawrence Rehabilitation Service Center.

The mobility assistance program provides funding to private and non-profit organizations to purchase wheelchair accessible vehicles to provide transportation to the elderly and handicapped. Since the program began 13 years ago, 560 wheelchair accessible vans have been awarded to agencies across the state.

The state's coordination improvement program has provided grants within the past two years totalling $101,000 to MVRTA to coordinate transportation services with the needs of clients at local social service agencies.

Through the Commonwealth's accessibility improvement program, MVRTA has expanded its "transfare" program into Methuen and expanded the Handiwork and dial-a-ride programs with grants totalling $208,481. Transfare provides limited reduced fare transportation services for elderly and handicapped residents and Handiwork provides transportation for disabled residents to and from the workplace and employment training programs.

MVRTA has a fixed route ridership of 1.1 million and provides a range of demand-responsive elderly and handicapped transportation services. The MVRTA serves Andover, Amesbury, Boxford, Georgetown, Groveland, Haverhill, Lawrence, Merrimack, Methuen, North Andover, Newbury, Newburyport, Rowley and West Newbury.

Skylight Brightens Building

A triangular skylight brightening a two-story lobby is one of the design highlights of the recently completed office building in the Andover Corporate Center. The 60,000 square-foot building, developed by Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Company, was designed by Sullivan Design Group, Inc. of Braintree. Aberthaw Construction of Boston was the project contractor.

The new building is the first of a potential four-building development being planned for the 25-acre site owned by Cabot, Cabot and Forbes. It was designed to attract small and large users of first class space. Corporate neighbors include Digital Equipment Corporation, Honeywell and other high technology firms.

The planned development is located in a wooded site off Route 93 and is part of a larger office complex.

According to James Sullivan, principal of Sullivan Design Group, Inc., the recently completed building "sets the tone for the planned four-building development." Its lobby was designed to project a first-class image. "The curved lobby features a sweeping staircase which lends a ceremonial effect," he explained.

Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Senior Vice President Chris Clancy, while describing the space as being for office, research and development use, noted it can be divided for small office users, such as regional sales offices for major companies.

Aberthaw Construction Project Manager Thomas O'Neil said, "Sullivan Design Group, Inc.'s challenge was to design a first-class building that would be relatively inexpensive to build. The design provided for only an 8 percent common area factor which gives us 92 percent of the building available for leasing."

The building's front facade is full-height glass and the brick exterior features dark bronze windows.

O'Neil credited Sullivan Design Group, Inc. for its monitoring of the job. "They did a great job monitoring the construction as was required by Andover building officials."

Sullivan Design Group, Inc. is an award-winning, full service architectural and engineering firm. In its 23rd year, the firm has designed many of the high technology buildings in the state and has completed many design commissions for the Boston developer, Cabot, Cabot & Forbes.

Income Increases At Gillette

Gillette's ongoing business plan, as enhanced by its restructuring and reorganization, yielded a net income increase of 37 percent for the first quarter of 1988 compared with 1987, according to Colman M. Mockler, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer.

Sales for the three months ended March 31 were $903.1 million, an increase of 18 percent from $762.1 million in 1987. Profit from operations was $163.9 million, up 30 percent from $126.5 million a year earlier.

Pretax income was $124.9 million, compared with $96 million in the first quarter of last year, up 30 percent. Net income of $75.3 million increased 37 percent from $55 million in 1987. Earnings per share of 65 cents compared with 48 cents the prior year, an increase of 35 percent. Earnings per share, assuming full dilution, were 65 cents compared with 47 cents a year earlier, an increase of 48 percent.

Sales of Gillette North Atlantic were well above the corresponding quarter of 1987 and profits rose sharply. Gillette International/Diversified Operations sales were well above and profits were sharply higher than the levels of a year earlier.

Net interest expense was higher in the quarter. Exchange losses declined and the effective tax rate was lower than the corresponding period in 1987.

Reaffirming the expectations reported to stockholders in his letter of April 2, Mockler said, "The company expects full-year 1988 net income to increase at least 25 percent to a range of $2.50 to $2.60 per share, compared with $2 per share for 1987 and $1.42 per share for 1986 (before special charges of $1.30 per share)."

Assuming 1988 net income of at least $2.50 to $2.60 per share, Gillette's net income per share will have increased at approximately a 12 percent compound annual rate since 1980. Based on Gillette's current business plan and assuming no more changes in exchange, tax or inflation rates compared with current rates, Gillette expects continued earnings growth at a compound annual rate well above 12 percent for each of the next several years beginning in 1989.

The Porsche That Flies

It was just a matter of time. Time for the ultimate German road car and general aviation manufacturers to combine engineering talents and bring about aviation's next generation of personal aircraft. With more than 115 years of combined aviation experience, these legendary companies known for speed, economy, and technical leadership have developed an aircraft that offers an exciting departure from existing powerplant technology.

Transformed from the legendary Porsche 911 sports car engine, the PFM 3200 comes to the marketplace with more than six years of development and more than 25,000 test hours. Main component designs have been proven in more than 300,000 911 automotive engines. Combined with the M20 Mooney airframe, this technically advanced duo will alter the way general aviation aircraft are operated for years to come. See "the Porsche that flies" on Saturday, May 7, at the Laconia, N.H., airport. View the aircraft and the Porsche engine.

Porsches are available at A.E. Park Corp., 222 Lowell St., Lawrence. Tel. 686-9743.

The only thing it does slow is depreciate.

It's simply supply and demand. The time we take designing, testing and perfecting our machines creates more Porsche enthusiasts than Porsches.

We assemble engines by hand, and bench test them for 45 minutes at maximum RPM.

We test drive every Porsche on both city streets and no-speed-limit autobahns.

We scrutinize every car, inside and out, in relentless pursuit of zero defects.

Instead of researching what makes cars sell better we research what makes them perform better. So when we make a change on one of our automobiles, you can be sure it's a genuine improvement, not superficial fluff.

Park Porsche Audi will show you why the driver who desires beauty, simplicity and performance desires a Porsche.

And why, if well cared for over the years, that Porsche will lose very little of its value.

And none of its thrill.

strictly enforced. The selectmen agreed on a firm enforcement policy Monday night.

A score of determined Beacon st. residents filled the School Committee rooms, and won a promise from the School Committee. A bus will be provided for children on that street, on a temporary basis, if the Selectmen will pay for it.

The public school children will receive their dose of Type III Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine the week of May 6th, during the regular school hours.

This will complete the polio immunization program, which started in the spring of 1962.

10 Years Ago — May 1978

Implementation of the decision of voters at last week's town meeting to go forward with secondary school construction was underway this week.

A proposal which would alter the testing process preceding septic tank installation will be proposed to the board of health and selectmen by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark. "The plan is a consideration of doing away with the present percolation standard as criteria for subsurface sanitation systems and replacing it with a solid analysis method," Clark reports.

Barbara White, a student at West Junior High School, was the winner of high singles honors in the statewide special olympics bowling tournament held Sunday in Leominster.

Andover's administration is gearing up to be defensive about revaluation, in the wake of voters rejecting for the third time in a year a revaluation program for the town. With a court order that the town conduct an equalization program, voters last week initially approved by a single vote the $150,000 for revaluation work, but a recount saw the item defeated 339-356.

The town has received reimbursement from the state under the self help program for the purchase of the Doyle land off High Plain road.

Afarian Oriental Rugs: An Investment You Can Live With

Afarian Oriental Rug has been in business at 18 Waverly Rd., North Andover, since 1974. They deal in antique, semi-antique and used, decorative Oriental rugs. Katchik Afarian, who, as a boy, learned his trade as an apprentice in Beirut, points out that the older Oriental rugs are a better investment than the newer ones. The older rugs are made with vegetable dyes, no chemicals, while the newer rugs are made with chemical aniline dyes. In addition, the older rugs are made of a better quality wool. Mr. Afarian travels to Europe 4 to 6 times yearly to bring back selective Oriental rugs. Afarian presently boasts the largest inventory of old Heriz and Serapi Orientals in the Greater Boston area.

Afarian's business is not limited to buying and selling Oriental rugs. Katchik emphasizes the need to have your Oriental washed every 2 or 3 years. Afarian will hand wash your Oriental and it will be washed without harsh chemicals to affect its color and quality. All repairs and cleaning are done on the premises by the Afarians. Katchik Afarian's restoring and repairing expertise is so widely recognized that rug dealers from out of state frequently demand his services.

Afarian can also provide you with an appraisal of your Oriental rug to specify its origin and present value. They'll give you a complete written appraisal with photograph for insurance purposes.

In addition, a new shipment of very nice Caucasian rugs can be found in the store. These tribal rugs, with geometrical designs and vegetable dyes, are very nice investment pieces.

Every rug sold at Afarian is guaranteed 100% and, if you bring back a perfectly maintained rug within 3 years of your purchase, Afarian will buy back your rug at its original purchase price or more. This guarantee is testimony to the fact that your Oriental rug is truly a valuable investment. Visit Afarian Mon.-Fri. 9-5, or call 688-1717 for an appointment Saturdays, Sundays or evenings.

Joel Steinberg and Steve Martin of Frames Unlimited

Frames UNLIMITED

Steve Martin and Joel Steinberg, our expert framers, recently returned from Frame-O-Ramma, in New York. This trade show, attended by thousands of framers from the Northeast, offered them the opportunity to acquire the skills necessary to provide new and exciting ideas for our many friends and customers.

They brought back prints by OBICHAN of DUBROVNIK. This internationally famous artist provides a new and exciting look to the world of art. Drop in to see these vibrant prints.

"You name it - we'll frame it" This continues to be our philosophy.

•Our fully equipped shop on the premises enables us to offer "old-fashioned" quality.

•A Frame Shop and more means we offer ready-made frames, prints, posters and graphic arts as well as everything the experienced "do-it-yourselfer" needs.

•Framing for industry is more than just a claim. We consistently meet deadlines for all orders - both large and small!

•Creative framing of all types of needlework is one of our many specialties.

Conveniently located in Shawsheen Plaza (Rte. 28) we are open: Tues., Wed., and Sat. 10:00 to 5:00. Thurs. and Fri. we are open until 8:00 P.M. for your convenience.

Give us a call at 470-0432.

MEMORIES DON'T SELL
If you are selling your home, remember that you are putting just a house on the market and not the pleasant memories you have accumulated there over the years. To the critical buyer, a house for sale is not yet a home and your fond reminiscences may not fit into the buyer's lifestyle. After preparing your house to show to its best advantage, step into the background. Leave all the selling to our agency, we are trained to be objective.

Our salesperson will have already gained all the required information from you. So let the salesperson alone conduct inspection tours and answer questions.

Your reason for selling may be important to you but a prospective buyer is unlikely to place any value on them. Don't let your reasons for selling overshadow the prospect's reasons for buying. Of course you'll be sad to leave your home, but push memories aside. If you allow sentiment to intrude when studying an offer to purchase you can lose not only your objectivity but the sale.

If there is anything you can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in
at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4
Punchard Ave., Andover.
Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Wanda Farr
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

WHEN THE LIGHT FIXTURES DON'T CONVEY

Before you list your home for sale, take a look around. Are there some items you will want to take with you? There may be a dining room chandelier that's been in your family for three generations, a ceiling fan in the master bedroom, or bookcases in the den that look built-in, but aren't.

Normally, all fixtures are conveyed to the new owners when a house is sold. This includes anything that is attached to walls or ceilings and, in some areas, all major appliances that are installed in the house. If you have fixtures that you don't want to convey, tell your agent what you want excluded from the agreement at the time you list your property for sale. It's best to remove any light fixtures or ceiling fans you plan to take with you and replace them before the property is shown to prospective buyers. Other non-conveying items should be listed on the fact sheet or Multiple Listing Service description to ensure they will not become an issue when a buyer makes an offer.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

covered wetlands that are already protected by state law. He also said Axelrod is already required to establish proper drainage before a building permit could be issued.

Crowe agreed, but added that, out of three possible access sites, drainage work required at the entry point preferred by Axelrod would benefit abutters. The other two access points, if Axelrod were forced to choose another alternative, would not necessitate the same kind of flood control work and would be of limited benefit to neighbors.

As for the 25 acre wetland donation, Crowe said the town Conservation Commission has asked for the land transfer in the past.

Also, "Regulations and land use policies change," said Crowe, "restriction at the present time won't always be as restrictive."

The variances being requested by Axelrod would:

- Ask for relief from a 1985 ordinance that prohibits multiple-family attached dwellings on a lot exceeding 25 acres.

- Allow a higher density of units than permitted.

- Permit town open space requirements to be met by continued operation of the golf course.

- Waive an ordinance that calls for no more than 60 percent of a project's units to be more than four rooms (not counting bathrooms).

- Allow the golf course to continue despite its failing to meet town requirements that an outdoor recreation club must be located on at least 50 acres.

- Permit specified paved areas by the golf course to be less than 100 feet from some neighboring street and property lines.

- Permit access to the project and the golf course through a town-designated Shopping Center zone.

- Allow wetland filling along with utilities and building construction within 50 feet of a watershed protection overlay district.

- Permit the developer to regrade slopes that exceed an average of 15 percent over a distance of ten feet.

In addition, two special permits that would let the golf course continue in an Single Residence C zoning district and permit a sewer pumping station in the same zoning area are being requested.

Ahead Of Schedule

Renovation work on the Old Town Hall is ahead of schedule, a town official said this week.

With work about 10 percent completed, the $1.68 million renovation job should be completed by January 1989, said Town Manager Ken Mahony.

Currently, work crews are knee-deep in basic work like removing old plaster, taking down windows and ceilings and washing brick walls.

Not that there haven't been small setbacks.

Friday night, gusting winds pulled at canvas tarp rigged to scaffolding next to the building on Main Street.

The heavy winds billowed out the tarp like a sail, forcing some of the scaffolding to crash to the pavement.

However, town work crews arrived on the scene to prevent any further damage.

The incident is not expected to slow renovation work.

Last week, the Board of Selectman gave their approval to the Andover Historical Society to sponsor opening festivities for the "new" Old Town Hall.

Not Threatening

The only public golf course in Andover will be radically changed or shut down if critical variances for an adjacent proposed condominium development aren't approved, the president of a firm representing course owner Harry Axelrod said yesterday.

Tomorrow night, the Zoning Board of Appeals will decide whether to allow Axelrod to encroach on protected wetlands area during construction of a planned 33 unit complex behind the Sheraton Rolling Green on Lowell Street.

If the ZBA denies the variance to state laws that prohibit development within 50 feet of a watershed protection overlay district, John Crowe, of John Crowe Associates said the condominiums will be forced into areas now occupied by the golf course.

"We're not trying to threaten anyone," said Crowe, but, a preliminary study being completed by the firm indicates the move "will compromise or eliminate the golf course."

Kampers Look To Summer Fun

Kids' Activities Make Parents Sane.

So says the town's Department of Community Services, which will be sponsoring several summer KAMPS for children between the ages of 3 and 12 this summer.

All registrations are in two-week sessions that begin Monday, June 27. Children may register for one two-week session or a combination of sessions equalling up to eight weeks. Priority will be given to those registering for four weeks or more. Discounted rates apply only at the initial time of registration (not add-ons to equal larger number). All programs have limited spaces.

The Kamp Shee-Hee, for children ages 3 and 4, is held at the Shawsheen School from 9 a.m. to noon. Parents may register their children for a partial week (Monday-Wednesday-Friday or Tuesday-Thursday) or a full week. Programs include games, crafts, singing, storytelling and, most importantly, having the chance to meet new friends.

The Kamp Shaw-Nee, for children ages 5 and 6, is also held at the Shawsheen School from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday. This comprehensive program offers the opportunity to meet and play with children the same age while participating in arts and crafts, nature walks, games, storytelling and special events. It gives the children who have attended kindergarten some stability for the summer season while introducing the school to the younger children who will attend kindergarten this fall or next.

The Kamp Ha-Kow-Wee, for children in kindergarten through sixth grade (completed), is held at Recreation Park from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Extended hours are available from 7:30-8:30 a.m. and from 4:30-5:30 p.m. for an additional fee. Parents can register their children for three, four or five days per week. The children participate in a variety of traditional camp activities plus canoeing, hiking, swimming, tennis and weekly field trips. The fee includes transportation to all in-town playground special events.

Registration for the Drop-in Playgrounds at Bancroft, Sanborn, South and West elementary schools will begin in mid-June. These playgrounds have programs for children in kindergarten through sixth grade (completed) and are held Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Weekly schedules include a variety of sports, games, special activities, field trips and arts and crafts.

For information on any of the summer playground programs, contact the DCS office, located in the Town Offices on Bartlet Street.

The Cure For The Summertime Blues

Historically speaking, people have gathered at Central Park for many years and for just as many different reasons. In recent years families have gathered on Monday and Wednesday evenings throughout the summer to enjoy the DCS family movie program and summer concert series. These programs are free to the public. The movie program has been a wonderful setting for families to meet. Children playing together and parents exchanging stories and parenting tips are common while they see to the task of handing out bug spray, homemade popcorn and blankets to settle in for a good movie.

This summer's schedule includes La Bamba, Hoosiers, Winnie the Pooh, The Aristocats, Pete's Dragon and more. The movie program will begin Monday, July 11.

The concert series offers something for everyone, from bluegrass to the big bands, jazz to rock. Families and friends gather after work for a picnic supper, teens play frisbee while children climb the park's memorial cannon. The carefully tended trees and the bandstand make the New England scene picture perfect. The concert series will begin Wednesday, July 6.

Well-supported over the years, attendance has remained constant with good to excellent reviews being reported. If you haven't gotten to Central Park in the past, plan to visit this summer and enjoy the variety of family entertainment.
